SUBJECTS • SUJETS

Abnormalities:

Bilateral macular colobomas, Sharma S et al, 27-28

Congenital retinal macrovessel with bilateral pigment epithelial changes, Sharma S et al, 386-387

A histopathological, ultrastructural and immunohistochemical study of congenital hereditary retinoschisis, Kirsch LS et al, 301-310

Abscess:

Orbital abscess secondary to acute dacryocystitis, Warrak E et al, 201-202

Acremonium:

Chronic endophthalmitis caused by Acremonium falci-forme, Cameron JA et al, 367-368

Adenoma, chromophobe:

Sarcoidosis of the sella turcica in association with bilateral sarcoidosis of the lacrimal glands, Khalil MK et al, 32-35

Administration, inhalation:

Inhaled steroids: effect on intraocular pressure in patients without glaucoma, Samiy N et al, 120-123

Administration, intravitreal: See Drug administration routes

Administration, retrobulbar: See Drug administration routes

Administration, topical:

Cataract surgery with 0.75% bupivacaine, Heston JPA et al, 328

Adrenal cortex hormones:

Pathophysiology and treatment of cystoid macular edema, Rocha G et al, 282-288

Adrenergic beta receptor blockers:

Late postoperative hypotony and choroidal detachment, Birt CM et al, 125-129

Age-related macular degeneration: See Macular degeneration

AIDS vaccines:

RetroActive antivirals [E], MacInnis BJ, 275-276

Amaurosis: See Blindness

Anatomy:

Orbital mnemonics, Ing EB et al, 193-194

Anesthesia, local:

Brain-stem anesthesia following retrobulbar anesthesia: case report and possible pathophysiologic mechanism, Mandelcorn MS et al, 24-26

Cataract surgery with 0.75% bupivacaine, Heston JPA et al, 328

Intranasal application of lidocaine jelly preoperatively in patients undergoing dacryocystorhinostomy, Pelletier CR et al, 245

Vitreous hemorrhage following retrobulbar anesthesia, Labelle PF et al, 21-24

Angiogenesis: See Neovascularization

Angiomyxoma: See Myxoma

Annual reports:

Neuro-ophthalmology update, Anderson DP, 2-10

Retina update: idiopathic macular holes, Gonder JR, 165-168

Update in cataract and refractive surgery, MacInnis BJ, 111-112

Annual reviews: See Annual reports

Anterior polar cataract: See Cataract

Anterior pyramidal cataract: See Cataract

Antiangiogenic agents: See Neovascularization

Antibiotics:

Update in cataract and refractive surgery, MacInnis BJ, 111-112

Anti-inflammatory agents, non-steroidal:

Pathophysiology and treatment of cystoid macular edema, Rocha G et al, 282-288

Antiviral agents:

RetroActive antivirals [E], MacInnis BJ, 275-276

Aphakia, postcataract:

Pathophysiology and treatment of cystoid macular edema, Rocha G et al, 282-288

Argon green laser: See Lasers

Aspiration biopsy: See Biopsy, needle

Association learning:

Orbital mnemonics, Ing EB et al, 193-194

Asthma:

Inhaled steroids: effect on intraocular pressure in patients without glaucoma, Samiy N et al, 120-123

Benign essential blepharospasm: See Blepharospasm

Beta blockers, adrenergic: See Adrenergic beta receptor blockers

Biomicroscopy, ultrasound: See Diagnostic imaging

See also Ultrasonography

Biopsy, needle:

Reducing the risk of needle-stick injury during orbital fine-

needle aspiration biopsy, Ing E et al, 124-125

Bleb function: See Glaucoma

Bleb leakage: See Postoperative complications

Blepharospasm:

Botulinum A exotoxin in clinical ophthalmology, Carruthers JDA et al, 389-400

Blindness:

Vitreous hemorrhage following retrobulbar anesthesia, Labelle PF et al, 21-24

Blood-aqueous humor barrier:

Effect of commercial dilating agents on laser flare-cell measurements, Chin PK et al, 362-365

Botox: See Botulinum toxins

Botulinum A exotoxin: See Botulinum toxins

Botulinum toxins:

Botulinum A exotoxin in clinical ophthalmology, Carruthers JDA et al, 389-400

Bovine spongiform encephalopathy: See Encephalopathy, bovine spongiform

Brain stem:

Brain-stem anesthesia following retrobulbar anesthesia: case report and possible pathophysiologic mechanism, Mandelcorn MS et al, 24-26

Bupivacaine:

Cataract surgery with 0.75% bupivacaine, Heston JPA et al, 328

Burns:

An unusual and severe thermal burn to the eye and adnexa, Pelletier CR et al, 319-323

Canada:

Ophthalmology in Toronto from 1887 to 1946: a historical review, Roy P et al, 171-174

Canadian Journal of Ophthalmology:

Internet? [E], MacInnis BJ, 1

Cancer: See Neoplasms

Carney complex:

Subconjunctival angiomyxoma, Albert DL et al, 315-318

Cataract:

Anterior pyramidal cataracts in Ehlers-Danlos syndrome, Kostick AMP et al, 133-136

Update in cataract and refractive surgery, MacInnis BJ, 111-112

Cataract extraction:

Cataract surgery with 0.75% bupivacaine, Heston JPA et al, 328

Management of dislocated lens fragments after phacoemulsification surgery, Ross WH, 234-240

Pathophysiology and treatment of cystoid macular edema, Rocha G et al, 282-288

Cavernous hemangioma: See Hemangioma, cavernous

Cavernous sinus:

Central retinal vein occlusion associated with cavernous sinus thrombosis, Sharma S et al, 255-256

Cavernous sinus thrombosis: See Cavernous sinus

See also Sinus thrombosis

Cell differentiation:

Cells of Müller: See Retina

Cellulitis:

Orbital abscess secondary to acute dacryocystitis, Warrak E et al, 201-202

Central retinal vein occlusion: See Retinal vein occlusion

Child:

Anterior pyramidal cataracts in Ehlers-Danlos syndrome, Kostick AMP et al, 133-136

Epibulbar fibrous histiocytoma in a child, Brodovsky SC et al, 130-132

Functional visual loss in children: a common problem with an easy solution, Clarke WN et al, 311-313

Tarsal eversion: a dramatic form of ectropion at birth, Pelletier CR et al, 313-314

Child abuse:

Pediatric ophthalmology [C], Levin AV, 141

Choroid:

Choroidal and retinal blood flow changes in degenerative myopia, Akyol N et al, 113-119

Choroid diseases:

Argon green vs. krypton red laser photocoagulation for extrafoveal choroidal neovascularization secondary to age-related macular degeneration: 3-year results of a multicentre randomized trial, Willan AR et al, 11-17

Late postoperative hypotony and choroidal detachment, Birt CM et al, 125-129

Choroidal detachment: See Choroid diseases

Choroidal neovascularization: See Neovascularization

See also Choroid diseases

Chromophobe adenoma: See Adenoma, chromophobe

Collagen:

Toxicity of intravitreal interferon α -2b in the rabbit [C], Devenyi RG, 141

Collagen shield: See Collagen

See also Drug delivery systems

Coloboma:

Bilateral macular colobomas, Sharma S et al, 27-28

Color Doppler imaging: See Ultrasonics

Color perception:

A comparative study of Hardy-Rand-Rittler and Ishihara colour plates for the diagnosis of nonglaucomatous optic neuropathy, Aroichane M et al, 350-355

Color perception tests:

A comparative study of Hardy-Rand-Rittler and Ishihara colour plates for the diagnosis of nonglaucomatous optic neuropathy, Aroichane M et al, 350-355
